

Woodvale or otherwise now called "Camac's Wood." He has scarcely been sawed in the city, but always assisted in Boston with a large family - I believe him to be sufficiently educated for the position.
Mr. Booth will pardon my trusting him, but I do so, assured that in Mr. Camac's absence
he will not refuse to give me the attention which I think he would have brought in person were he here - Mr. Booth may be glad to know that Mr. Camac was well when he last wrote July 4th & had escaped the danger by which he had been threatened.

In relation to place in Mint.

Mr. Camac would like to know from Mr. Booth, if there is at present any vacancy for a journey girl in the mint. There is a daughter of a man who has been for many years in the employment of Mr. Camac's family, - of his mother in-law, at the time when Mr. Camac was at home as a boy, & his wife, (the mother of the girl,) was married out of the house of Mr. Camac's grand mother - so that I feel assured of my safety in taking upon

1305 - Frank St. -

Myself the responsibility of proposing this young person, which I have shrank from doing in several other cases that may have been as determining, but of whom I did not feel myself competent to advise - At this time I have in the capacity of Nurse, the merit of the present applicant whom I regard as fitted to fill any post of trust in my house - I only add this to show that her stroke is good which I think is saying much - The girl herself is very steady & quiet having been born & brought up in Mr. Camac's place
